Launch content checklist

Lead: Anthony
Collaborators: creators, artists, instructors, event team

CAMPAIGN 01 · WHY BUILDING A CREATIVE HABIT MATTERS Creative habits turn inspiration into practice, practice into confidence, and confidence into a body of work. Creator Studio by AIMD helps people keep showing up.

01 Campaign foundation

Make the message consistent across every format.

- ☐ Confirm the campaign title, core caption, CTA, and launch dates.
- ☐ Choose 8–12 voices across artists, creators, athletes, performers, writers, and enthusiasts.
- ☐ Create a shared folder for raw video, selects, quote cards, releases, and final exports.
- ☐ Assign an interviewer, camera/editor support, approver, and posting owner.

02 Creator interviews

Capture short, honest answers that can become a series.

- ☐ Record a clean 15-second answer: “Why does creating a habit matter to you?”
- ☐ Ask: What was your first creative habit? What changed when you stayed with it?
- ☐ Capture 30–60 second interviews plus vertical and horizontal versions.
- ☐ Pull 1–3 strong quotes, creator name, medium, handle, and permission for use.
- ☐ Capture quiet B-roll: hands, tools, movement, workspace, process, and finished work.

03 App proof + previews

Show the real product in use; do not rely only on promotional graphics.

- ☐ Record onboarding, dashboard, habit creation, studio log, profile, and community screens.
- ☐ Show a creator viewing a featured challenge and earning 20 points for an original response.
- ☐ Capture workshop browsing, instructor pages, enrollment, and event details.
- ☐ Film real testers using the app with permission; include reactions and quick quotes.
- ☐ Export short Reels, Stories, stills, and one clean product walkthrough.

04 Workshop content

Give every workshop enough material to explain its value.

- ☐ Record each instructor’s 15–30 second welcome and workshop promise.
- ☐ Capture the skill, outcome, who it is for, and what participants will make or practice.
- ☐ Film one short drill or teaching moment from each workshop.
- ☐ Collect instructor bio, headshot, workshop image, date, location, and signup CTA.
- ☐ Prepare one announcement, one reminder, and one last-call post per workshop.

05 Anticipation build-up

Build recognition before asking people to attend or download.

- ☐ Save-the-date post and campaign introduction.
- ☐ Three-week, two-week, one-week, and 72-hour countdown beats.
- ☐ Creator quote series, instructor spotlights, app previews, and behind-the-scenes setup.
- ☐ Partner and collaborator repost kit with approved copy, images, and links.
- ☐ Email, AIMD SMS list, website, in-app broadcast, Instagram, and event reminders.

06 Event capture plan

Make the launch event a source of future content, not only a single day.

- ☐ Assign a photo lead, video lead, interview lead, and live-posting owner.
- ☐ Capture arrival, setup, welcome, workshops, app use, creator quotes, and community moments.
- ☐ Collect attendee first-habit stories and 15-second “what I made” clips.
- ☐ Capture signage, QR codes, workshop tables, instructor interactions, and final group moments.
- ☐ Plan next-day recap, quote cards, gallery, thank-you message, and follow-up CTA.

07 Approval + publishing control

- ☐ Get written permission for every interview, image, voice, and event appearance; confirm name and social handle spelling.
- ☐ Keep a simple content tracker with asset, format, owner, approval status, publish date, channel, and link.
- ☐ Use the same CTA everywhere: Build a creative habit. Join Creator Studio by AIMD.
- ☐ Review comments and questions after publishing; save audience language for future campaign content.

MINIMUM LAUNCH ASSET SET

1 campaign video · 8–12 creator clips · 4 quote cards · 1 product walkthrough · 2–3 workshop promos · event save-the-date · launch recap.

WEEKLY CONTENT CHECK

What was captured? What is approved? What publishes next? What is missing? Who owns the next action?
